Alpeh Bet Communicates

Aleph Class : Mrs. Singer

What a busy afternoon! We've prepared for our Aleph-bet Friday Night experience. There was baking to do, songs to learn, and Shabbat Mitzvot to review.

We also reviewed those Aleph Bet letters, we had been practicing before our break and the lessons we had learned from the book of Shemot. Wow! We were certainly a bustling group this week.

Bet Class: Morah Rechama

Welcome back! The Bet class is stopping off in the living room. We reviewed one of the Mitzvot of the living room, Hachnasat Orchim - how important it is to make our guests feel comfortable in our home. Do you remember who was the first one who did this mitzvah? It was Avraham, he had a tent with doors on each side, so guests could come in from all sides.

We also learnt about the mitzvah of tzedakah - charity. we learnt that the highest form of Tzedokah is giving someone a job. We then had fun creating our very own Tzedokah box.

Gimmel Class: Morah Dassie

In preparation for Aleph Bet's Friday night Shabbat Experience on January 22nd, we have begun learning about Shabbat. This week we focused on the mitzvah of Challah. We talked about the origin of the mitzvah of 'challah'? We had lots of fun making challah dough!!

Daled Class: Morah Mushkie

It was so great to be back, and see everyone! We really enjoyed the day and was very busy. The Heroes we learnt about today were two very special women, Rachel and Leah. There is so much to learn from the mothers of the Jewish Nation. We focused on learning from them is, the middah (character trait) of not saying not kind words about another person. Make sure to ask your child about all we learnt, and all the fun we had!

Hey Class : Rabbi Prus

Now that our twins, both girl and boy

have been named, we began the process of education. Just as the first Jew, Avraham (Abraham) started his journey of serving G-d at the age of three, we start educating our children to perform Mitzvot as soon as they turn three years old.
